

Medical Consultation Report

Summary:

From past 4 to 5 days i am feeling continuous body pain especially in legs and back and also feeling very tired even after sleeping for long hours sometimes mild headache is also there but no fever i think it might be due to stress or overwork because my schedule has been very hectic lately this looks like fatigue and muscle strain you should take proper rest and maintain a good sleep schedule you can take tab ibuprofen 400. milligrams once or twice daily after food if pain is more also take. in capsule once daily for few days drink plenty of water and reduce screen time try light stretching exercises if symptoms do not improve in one week then further evaluation may be needed.
